What is your connection to sarcoma or your sarcoma story?

I am a childhood bone cancer (sarcoma) survivor, and my journey—travelling over 1,500 km from my village to access treatment—deeply shaped my understanding of the challenges faced by patients in underserved communities. This experience led me to dedicate my life to improving access to timely and affordable healthcare, especially for patients who lack access to specialist care.

What's most important to know about your organization?

DigiSwasthya Foundation is a non-profit working to bridge healthcare gaps in rural India through a Phygital Telemedicine Model, connecting underserved communities with specialist doctors from tier 1 cities. We operate across multiple states in India, focusing on early diagnosis, access to care, and patient support, including cancer screening and specialist consultations in collaboration with public health systems.

What are you most interested in collaborating on?

Awareness, Access, Policy, Partnerships, Innovation, Patient Support

Your role in the organisation and main areas of involvement:

Founder & CEO – DigiSwasthya Foundation

Areas: Patient Advocacy, Digital Health, Telemedicine, Cancer Care & Screening, Health System Strengthening, Community Outreach, Patient Support, Communication, Advocacy.

How can others best connect with you after the conference?

Email: sandeep@digiswasthya.org LinkedIn: Open to connect - <https://www.linkedin.com/in/sandeepdigiswasthya/> and collaborate
Also open to partnerships and global collaborations

One fun fact about you or something you are proud of:

As a cancer survivor, I turned my personal journey into building a healthcare organization that has reached thousands of underserved patients—ensuring that others don't have to travel the same difficult path I once did.
